

NASTE Season 2014 – Race #10

January 25, 2014

TooBad Motorplex, Portland, Oregon

TOOK MY CHEVY TO THE LEVY...

The NASTE '55 Chevys were the IROC cars of choice for the 10th race in the 2014 NASTE series. Seventeen racers bashed and slammed their way around TooBad Motorplex through two slamming-good rounds of racing. The Chevy's are somewhat slow and a rather ill-handling but what they lack in speed they more than make up for with non-stop fun. The results prove that and then some providing the closest, most exciting racing seen on the NASTE calendar in about forever.

Beating the behemoths around the track and staying out of trouble best – a key ingredient – was Rico Locati just squeaking past Flyin' Bryan Trachsel by a tenth. Home-town hero Bill Bostic took third knocking Monte Saager right off the podium and firmly into fourth with a well-timed thump. And such was the racing for most of the evening.

In the NASTE Challenge amateur ranks, there was a tie for the top position between Russell and Thomas Flood. The tie resulted in a trophy dash with the NASTE Challenge Trophy awarded to Thomas Flood.

It was a great night with lots of food, fun and laughter. Thanks to our hosts Bill and Diane Bostic.
