

NASTE Season 2013 – Race #11

March 2, 2013

Too Bad Motorplex, Fairview, Oregon

This past Saturday evening sixteen racers came to Bill Bostic's Too Bad Motorplex to take up the challenge of the eleventh NASTE race on this year's calendar.

This is the third time we've been to Bill's this season. The first two times we raced the Fly cars but not this time. No, Bill had set up some Scaley Mustangs with magnets! Yes, WITH magnets. On the plus side, they did run really well. But magnets... what is this world coming too?

As the flag dropped it was apparent that some were taking advantage of the power of those magnets and running with relative abandon while others were running a little more like abandoned relatives.

In the first set it was Terry 'the Mailman' Abbott coming home first followed closely by Flyin' Bryan Trachsel and Tracy Flood in third. Tracy was heard to comment after the set "I do pretty well when they give me a magnet". Yes indeed.

In the junior category Todd Flood was showing brothers Nicholas and Mathew James (pictured above) the fast way around the track. Nicholas took second in the first set while his brother came back to edge him out in the second set.

The other Abbott, Dorothy 'the Hammer' was busy dominating the women's class with June Petrequin second while newcomer Becky James worked on the finer skills of slot car management.

In the second set Flyin' Bryan led the way while Terry slipped to second while Rico Locati took third.

A big NASTE thanks to Bill Bostic for inviting us into his house for a pleasant evening. The pizza was top notch, and Dorothy's chocolates were excellent as always.
