

NASTE Season 2009 – Race #6

January 10, 2009

Autumn Hills Raceway, Hillsboro, Oregon

A fabulous crowd of eighteen racers and six spectators came out for the first race of the New Year at Autumn Hills Raceway on Saturday evening in Hillsboro. Greeting the throng was a revamped Autumn Hills track complete with fresh paint on the track and guard rails plus the copper taping of the track rails. The changes provided a great deal of improvement over previous years. The power was now extremely smooth with nary a ripple in the track surface. However, since the track had not been run much, the early heats proved quite slippery for the Ninco NC-1 powered Porsche 356A coupes – very reminiscent of the tail-swinging ride of an actual 356A. But as the heats progressed and the cars started laying down a little urethane, the surface improved greatly and the lap counts showed it. Drivers that were struggling to get 16 laps were turning 20!

Monte Saager had specially prepared the Ninco cars with some added weight, axle tubes to restrict the front travel and a set of John Mitchell supplied Myron-elli tires on the rears. And the cars once again proved stable and reliable as drivers ripped off lap after lap. The race was decided on the best two of your four 3-minute heats – two in each lane. And of course as the cars laid down rubber and the surface improved, everyone's later runs were better than the earlier ones.

Putting the finger to the trigger better than the rest was once again Flyin' Bryan Trachsel followed closely by home track favorite "Big Smooth" Monte Saager. Coming in a close third was Byron "Karate Kid" Stumman.

A special thanks to Victoria Saager for keeping the crowd well fed and providing entertainment for those not racing. One TV was showing Grand Prix, the other was involved with Wii boxing, bowling and golf. In between racers sampled the new SCX Digital track. What a night!
