

NASTE Season 2015 – Race #6
December 20, 2014
The Gorge Raceway, Troutdale, Oregon

A new track, a new challenge, what an exciting evening of racing!

Bob Nakamura provided the NASTE racers with the honor of the first official race on his big Scalextric four lane track. And true to NASTE racing, we broke that baby in right! 22 racers put the track and computer system to the test. To Bob's credit we did not experience one problem with the track.

The night's racing consisted of two rounds of three minute heats. Fly Classics were the cars of choice for the IROC style format. Racers found the car and track combination quite challenging, but all adapted quickly and the racing was actually quite close.

In the Challenge Race Thomas Flood posted his third consecutive win, and fourth of the season. John Fisher was a few tenths behind in second with Perry Petrequin third, his best finish to date. The Challenge racers made up over half of the field of racers for this event, and we even saw some new faces including Eugene Jung who traveled all the way from Southern California to race with us.

The expert division was hotly contested. Initially it looked to be Flyin' Bryan's night, but after intense battling Rico Locati pulled out the win with Bryan in second and Tracy Flood taking third.

And there was food! There was pizza, meat balls, chicken, and assorted snacks, as well as Dorothy's famous candies on hand. A great big thanks to Bob and his wife for a truly enjoyable evening and some great racing!
