

NASTE Season 2010 – Race #5

February 12, 2011

Autumn Hills Raceway, Milwaukie, Oregon

The fifth race of the NASTE season saw the return of two favorites of mine, the Fickle Fiats of Fate and racing under the lights. To top it off, there was also some close racing action going on among the amazing food display. It's always a fun night at Rico's.

Those fabulous Fickle Fiats got the first set of the night started and quickly reminded us of their tempestuous nature as some of the drivers induced the Fiat bounce enough to dislodge a tire now and then greatly reducing the lap count. There's a joke about cars going wop-wop but you won't hear it here. Those Fiats have always worked well for me and I was able to get just a little more out of them than Flying Bryan to take the win squeaking by him by about half a lap. Battlin' Bill Bostic rounded out the podium in third slipping by the track owner Rico by one tenth of a lap. That's close!

But there was still a second set to run. And there would be different cars and more chances. Who would make the most of it? And with three successive NASTE wins on the Autumn Hills track could the Big Smooth make it four?

In the second set, Rico brought out some smooth-running SCX LMP cars. Since the cars are equipped with working head and tail lights it was decided to run in the dark with the track illuminated by the many lights placed around the track. It was a great time. And this time it was the track owner, Rico, breaking through with the win just barely getting past Bryan by a single tenth of a lap. Battlin' Bill was once again third this time followed closely by the Big Smooth another tenth back.

Thanks to Rico and Kelly for a great evening on rather short notice. I particularly liked the sausage selection. And thanks to Dorothy "the Hammer" Abbott for making such great chocolate treats. I understand the little mice were quite popular. Tasty too!

The next race is at Jacquelin Park Speedway at Monte and Victoria's in Hillsboro. The event will be a three-hour team Enduro on their digital track. We'll hope to see you there!

NASTE Scrabble Season 2010 – Round #4

February 12, 2011

Autumn Hills Raceway, Milwaukie, Oregon

The 2010 NASTE Scrabble Season continued with three tightly contested games played at Autumn Hills. Victoria was the high-points winner of the night followed closely by Kathy just a single point back. Battlin' Bill and Terry the Postman even took time out to win a round!
